

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

TWENTY-FOURTH ANNUAL MEETING
OF THE
Ohio State Pharmaceutical Association,
Called at Cleveland, Ohio.

FIRST SESSION—TUESDAY FORENOON.

July 8th, 1902.

The first session was called to order at 10:30 o'clock a. m., by the President, Mr. John C. Firmin, on board the steamer "City of Cleveland," at Cleveland, Ohio, with a quorum present, the Secretary being in attendance. On motion, the roll-call and reading of the minutes of last meeting was dispensed with. On motion, a recess was taken, the meeting being subject to the call of the President.

SECOND SESSION—WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON,

July 9th, 1902.

The meeting was called to order by the President at 4 o'clock p. m.

The President: For the benefit of those members who came up from Columbus, Cincinnati and the adjacent territory, I would say that inasmuch as this association is an Ohio association, it was deemed necessary, or at least expedient to open this meeting in Ohio. We simply opened the meeting before we left Ohio, and took a recess; this is a continuation of the first meeting. The Secretary will read the minutes of the previous session.

The Secretary read the minutes of the previous session, which on motion were approved.

The Secretary read credentials of delegates from the Kentucky Pharmaceutical Association, the Ohio Valley Druggists

Association, and a communication from the Pennsylvania Pharmaceutical Association, as follows, which were ordered placed on file, and the delegates extended the courtesies of the meeting:

OHIO VALLEY DRUGGISTS' ASSOCIATION.

CINCINNATI, O., July 7th, 1902.

DEAR SIR: I beg to inform you that the following named members of the Ohio Valley Druggists' Association were appointed delegates to the Ohio State Pharmaceutical Association meeting to be held at Mackinac:

Chas. Freericks, Jr., Chairman, Edw. Voss, Jr., A. Wetterstroem, W. F. Knemoeller, J. F. Kritchbauch.

Very truly yours,

CHAS. FREERICKS, JR.,
Secretary O. V. D. A.

PITTSBURGH COLLEGE OF PHARMACY.

PITTSBURG, PA., July 5, 1902.

Mr. John Firmin, President O. S. P. A., Mackinac Island:

DEAR SIR: Owing to great pressure of business I am unable to be present at your annual meeting as delegate of the Pennsylvania Pharmaceutical Association and therefore request that Dr. J. H. Beal be permitted to act in my stead as delegate to present the greetings of the Pennsylvania Pharmaceutical Association.

I regret very much my inability to be with you during the coming meeting and with best wishes for a pleasant and profitable time, remain,

Yours respectfully,

J. A. KOCH.

PENNSYLVANIA PHARMACEUTICAL ASSOCIATION.

Mr. Lewis C. Hopp, Secretary O. S. P. A.:

This is to certify that at the last annual meeting of this association, the following were appointed delegates to the Twenty-Fourth Annual Meeting of the Ohio Pharmaceutical Association: L. S. Vowell, Washington, Washington Co., Pa.; A. Armor, Taylor ave. and Monterey street, Allegheny; J. A. Koch, Bluff and Pride streets, Pittsburg.

J. A. MILLER, Secretary.

KENTUCKY BOARD OF PHARMACY.

FRANKFORT, July 2nd, 1902.

Mr. L. C. Hopp, Sec'y O. S. P. A., Cleveland, Ohio:

DEAR SIR: I have the honor to inform you that the following persons have been named by President H. K. McAdams to represent the Kentucky Pharmaceutical Association at the annual meeting of the Ohio Pharmaceutical Association, July 8th to 15th, and to convey to your body fraternal greetings:

W. H. Averill, Frankfort, Chairman, D. R. Henderson, Georgetown, J. W. Gayle, Frankfort.

The Chairman of this delegation is authorized to fill any vacancies which may occur.

Yours very truly,

J. W. GAYLE,
Secretary Ky. Phar. Assn.

The President thereupon read his annual address as follows, Mr. Charles Freericks being in the chair:

PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS.

Members of the O. S. P. A.:

Another year has passed and we meet again to talk over the successes and failures of the past and to make plans for the future.

We are this year making an experiment in a new place of meeting. The ride on this fine boat through this beautiful scenery and across Lake Huron with its cool breezes, ought to make a pleasing diversion, and when we add to this a short stay on Mackinac Island, it will no doubt make the session of '02 one long to be remembered.

The year has been an important one for Ohio pharmacists, particularly in the legislation affecting them.

Four laws have been enacted since our last meeting, the poison law, the cocaine law, the law forbidding the distribution of samples, and what is known as the Cain law providing for the more thorough collection of the tax on sale of intoxicating liquors.

The cocaine law is thought to be defective in that only cocaine is mentioned with no reference to its salts. This is a point however, for the courts to determine, and it will no doubt be done.

The poison law appears to be simple, concise and ample enough to cover all cases including the sale of cocaine and its salts, if the cocaine law proves ineffectual.

It is to be hoped that the druggists of Ohio will conform strictly to this law which requires that all sales of poisons be recorded. I want to lay special stress on this matter, because I know many of us are apt to be careless in recording sales when the purchaser is known to us. I think the Association should recommend some particular form of a record so that there may be some uniformity in registering sales of poisons throughout the state.

The Cain law defines the status of the druggist in regard to the sale of intoxicants and repeals the obnoxious Middleton Act of 1900, which occasioned so much trouble to druggists. Perhaps the most objectionable feature of this law is that its enforcement is placed with the Food Commissioner of the state. If we have a fair minded officer in that department we shall have little to fear.

The past year has again demonstrated the value of this Association to the druggists of Ohio, and emphasized the importance of the Auxiliary. It is safe to say that but for the work done by the Auxiliary and the Committee on Legislation, a large proportion of small druggists in the state would have been forced out of business. Much commendation is due to our former president, Prof. Beal, for his careful and persistent work. The good he was able to do, shows the importance of sending more druggists to the state legislature.

The showing made by the Executive Committee in its record of new members is gratifying. Nearly every privilege the retail druggist of this country enjoys he owes in some measure to the work accomplished by this and kindred associations, and I hope to live long enough to see that this fact is appreciated to the extent that none will be found who are not members of these organizations.

The N. A. R. D. has been working away the past year and has accomplished much. The cut rate evil is still with us and perhaps will always be, but its power is broken and we trust it will never be revived. The convention at Buffalo was very interesting, and we shall hear more about it from our delegates.

It is the custom with presidents of associations of this kind to seize this, the great opportunity of his life, to exploit his favorite hobby and urge the members to adopt it, but I do not think I will take advantage of you in this fashion.

In looking over the 25 years of my experience as a druggist I see many things that others might have done better, and no doubt my associates can say the same of me, but I am not at all sure that any of us would do any better if we could live our lives over again. You may have noticed that the young man who has been in this work three or four years knows more than he can learn by later experience, and the man with long experience knows that the rest of us are as ignorant as himself, so that it is of no use to give the young advice, and the old do not need it. I can only say, stick to your business, work hard, become an active member of your state association, see that your neighbor also becomes a member, attend the meetings, tell the truth, sell good drugs, and you will live long and prosper.

On motion, the address was referred to a committee of three for consideration, the chair appointing the following as such committee: Mr. John Byrne, Chairman; Mr. Edward Voss, and Mr. William Kneomoeller.

The President: I am informed that Mr. Gale, of Kentucky, is present, and as he is the chairman of the delegation from Kentucky, no doubt the association would like to hear from him, as I am sure I would personally. Is Mr. Gale present? Mr. Gale, this association gives you greeting and welcome, and would be glad to hear from you.

Mr. Gale: Mr. President, and members of the Ohio Association. The delegation from Kentucky is very glad to be with you. I do not believe that any of us are speechmakers, but we want to thank you for your words of welcome, and to say that we came to learn from you, not only by what you do, but how you do it. This is the first association meeting that I have attended in fifteen years when I was not the secretary. I am going to enjoy seeing the secretary do the work this time, and I am sure that the other members of the delegation will join with me in thanking you for the courtesy done us; and we shall do everything in our power to further the interests of this meeting. (Applause).

The secretary read his annual report, as follows:

SECRETARY'S REPORT.

Mr. President and Members of the Ohio State Pharmaceutical Association:

GENTLEMEN: Your secretary begs leave to report the following. Immediately after the close of the last meeting the usual notices and the certificates were sent to newly elected members.

I am pleased to report the issuing of our annual proceedings, notwithstanding the hot weather, inside of the time specified by the association at its meeting, and with the same promptness of our committees this year, will be able to repeat the performance with these proceedings.

Also, each member of the various committees appointed by the president, was individually notified of his selection.

On account of the auxiliary addition to our association we have added about 145 new members, which was due in a great measure to the late unpleasantness caused by the legislature.

I would also state that these newly elected members were all notified of their election; that certificates have not as yet been sent them for the reason that we had to get a new supply of membership certificates, and as the reply postal cards are nearly all in, I expect to send the certificates out shortly after this meeting adjourns.

I would also urge upon our members that we have with us on this trip, the most unique and glorious meeting ever held by any state association in the United States, that a larger number are not members of the association, and that the members should make a special effort not to allow one to escape from becoming a member at this meeting.

The usual notice of annual meeting was sent out, accompanied by a circular of the entertainment committee, stating the particulars of this year's trip, and, in order to give the circular prominence, it was mailed in a large pink envelope.

Respectfully submitted,

L. C. HOPP, Secretary.

On motion of Mr. Byrne, the report was accepted and ordered placed on file.

Mr. Von Stein read his report as Treasurer, and also the report of the Auditing Committee thereon, as follows:

AUDITING COMMITTEE'S REPORT.

- We, the committee appointed by the president of this association, have examined the books and accounts of the treasurer, and hereby certify that the foregoing is a correct statement of accounts as shown by the books.

W. T. TSCHANEN,

FRED BERG,

G. W. KENAN.

On motion of Mr. E. R. Selzer, the report was received and ordered spread upon the minutes.

The secretary read a communication from the secretary of the National Association of Retail Druggists, enclosing a resolution covering a reduction of the tax on alcohol. On motion of Mr. Hopp this resolution was referred to a committee of three, for a report at a future session.

The report of the committee, after lengthy argument, was reconsidered and referred back to the committee.

The secretary read a communication from J. A. Sanford, of Stockton, California, which, upon motion of Mr. Selzer, the secretary was instructed to answer in a manner fitting the enthusiastic and encouraging words of the writer, and that the letter be placed on file.

J. A. SANFORD, HONORARY MEMBER.

Stockton, Cal., June 30, 1902.

DEAR MR. HOPP: The announcement of your 1902 meeting and the unique manner of holding it are to hand. I very much wish I could be with you, I am sure it will be one of the pleasantest meetings you have ever had.

I often wished I could get up in that North Lake country and delve in its peculiar and rich Flora that the late Asa Gray so often referred to in his manual.

It is now nearly twenty years since I attended one of your meetings, having been a short time in Wyoming and the balance of the time in California.

I am now writing under a couple of fig trees that are 70 to 80 feet high, the trees at the base are 15 or 16 inches in diameter, with the long spreading branches copiously supplied with large, broad leaves; this is a good retreat when the thermometer touches up in the 96 and 98 mark.

The fig fruit is just now beginning to take on its dark purple shade, in a couple of weeks we shall have plenty of figs to dry, to pickle, or to slice and eat fresh with sugar and cream. On these two trees we shall have anywhere from ten to fifteen bushels and we get two crops a year like this.

The constantly falling fruit with its attending insects are objections to the fig as a shade tree here, but as its shade is dense and cool and the tree grows without any care and with little water it is a common shade tree. Whatever road or lane you turn you find the fig tree. In neglected places they spread and form small groves. Weary Willie finds the wayside fig tree a cool resort and free lunch stand combined.

We had our last rain about five weeks ago and expect to see no more until late in September. Everything gets pretty dusty and lawns and gardens are only kept green by sprinkling and irrigating.

This is the great wheat centre of California, and the harvest is just now begun. This city has one of the largest manufactories of combined harvesters in the world. Wheat raising is not nearly so profitable as formerly, the price of wheat being so low and the land does not produce as well owing to many years of wheat cropping. Much land is being cut up in smaller tracts for vineyards and fruit farms.

We have no State Pharmaceutical Association in California. When I came here there was one but it was closely allied to the College of Pharmacy and the organization was never found to reach the state as a whole.

A good, strong state organization would do much good if formed along liberal lines and with the purpose of drawing in the entire retail trade.

I note that many of the pioneers of O. S. P. A. have dropped life's trials and hope you are seeing to it that the younger element is being brought in to fill the ranks.

It is pleasing to note the success of some of your fellows in science and literature, notably Professor Lloyd, whose books have had wide circulation in California. We meet "Stringtown on the Pike" and "Warwick of the Knobs" everywhere in the company with the best fiction of the day.

Cutting of prices is prevalent in all the larger places, if the druggists are not mean enough or foolish enough to start it some department or other store feels it must do so. This state of affairs is a positive necessity, the profits in the drug business have been so large and so many pharmacists were becoming millionaires that something had to happen, and I guess it has happened over the whole United States in the way of price cutting. It will comfort us to know that in future millionaires will not be such a common occurrence in the ranks of the retail trade and that we shall escape the shafts of anti-trust legislation. The retailer is after all a law-abiding citizen and patronizes home industry, not even going to New Jersey for his charter when he does incorporate.

The conditions of labor have changed much in all other lines and trades and are destined to change much in the retail drug trade in the next few years or the obtaining of help will be an impossibility. It was never intended in the economy of this world that any one class should enjoy all the comforts and luxuries, nor was it ever intended that skilled labor should be obliged to work 14 to 18 hours a day to win bread to live on.

For years the drug stores of our place have closed at 9 o'clock p. m., and did so until May of last year when we agreed to close at 8 o'clock. We did so until May of this year, and it is our intention to close again at 8 p. m. beginning with September. There was some kicking and fault-finding at first but people soon got used to the hours and got their orders in before closing time. It makes no difference what the closing hour is there will always be some late stragglers.

Our experience with early closing is that the help is better satisfied, work better and are in better shape to deal with the trade. Besides we get the pick of help from places where long hours prevail, as good men will seek the places where they are paid equally well and get better working conditions.

With best wishes for the future of the O. S. P. A. and particularly its marine meeting, I am

Yours fraternally,

J. A. SANFORD.

The executive committee submitted the following report:

New members secured during the year, who have paid their fees, 145. We also have to report the death of the following: R. H. Lansing, Chillicothe; L. W. Sauer, Cincinnati; Otto Heineman, Cincinnati; Albert Hitchman, Butler; and S. B. Evans, Circleville.

On motion of Mr. Hopp, the report was accepted and ordered placed on the minutes.

Mr. Hopp: I see that we have with us in the audience, Dr. N. Stone Scott, of Cleveland. He is not a druggist, but he is one of the prominent physicians of Cleveland, and I move that he be called upon, and that we give him the privilege of the floor during our sessions, and would be pleased to have him attend our meetings.

Motion seconded by Mr. Hechler.

On the suggestion of Mr. Vortkamp, Dr. Matthews, of Lima, was included in the motion, and the amendment accepted by Mr. Hopp and Mr. Hechler, and the motion was duly carried.

Dr. Scott: Mr. President, I had no idea of making a speech before this association. Mr. Hopp has rather stolen a march upon me; but I wish to thank you for your courtesy, in extending the privileges of this association to myself and to the other members mentioned. I have a very warm feeling for this association, and believe that the feeling of the medical profession is voiced when I say that we ought to work together, and I see no reason why the committee on legislation, which I suppose you have, should not work with the committee on legislation from the Medical Association. Many of the aims and ambitions of the two associations are alike, and they should at least confer with each other, it seems to me. This association, it strikes me, has started an innovation which certainly is meeting with great success. I think it will be copied by other associations, in other states. Certainly, the promises of success could not be better, from what we see to-day, and I shall be glad to do all I can to further the interests of this association, and to accept of the courtesies which have been extended. (Applause).

The President: I think the gentleman's suggestion in regard to legislative committees is a very good one; the druggist and the doctor should be co-workers. They often have worked against each other, which is a very great mistake, because working together, they can accomplish much good for the community at large, as well as for themselves. Is Dr. Matthews present?

Dr. Matthews: Gentlemen, I am certainly thankful for the courtesy which you have extended me, not being in the drug business at present, but formerly so, and I am certainly glad of the privilege of attending this meeting. (Applause).

The president appointed as the committee on nominations of officers for the ensuing year, Messrs. Geo. W. Voss, Cleveland, Chairman; B. S. Young, G. B. Kauffman, J. H. Beal, J. H. Brinker, Z. T. Baltzley, Adam Schmidt, Albert Wetterstroem, J. H. Case.

The president further appointed a committee to select five names from which the governor shall select a new member of the Ohio Board of Pharmacy, as follows: Mr. John Byrne, Columbus, chairman; G. L. Hechler, Cleveland; M. A. Burkhardt, Dayton; H. F. Vortkamp, Lima; Charles Freericks, Cincinnati.

As a committee on time and place of next meeting, the president appointed Messrs. J. M. McCann, Toledo; F. W. Herbst, Columbus; S. S. Amstutz, Bluffton.

Mr. Von Stein: I have a report of a committee here.

REPORT OF MEMBERSHIP COMMITTEE.

DAYTON, OHIO, July 5, 1902.

To the Officers and Members of the O. S. P. A.:

GENTLEMEN: Your membership committee beg leave to report as follows:

We have secured forty-five (45) applications. We hope to have the list of new members reach two hundred. The prospects are good for that number for this year, which fact plainly shows the interest pharmacists of the state are taking in the association.

We would therefore appeal to the members to continue their efforts to strengthen our membership. When we meet in 1903, every druggist in the state will be a full-fledged member. With a strong membership in our association, we can then expect to make our laws perfect and not be in constant fear.

Respectfully submitted,

HARRY H. GRIFFITH,

BART WHITEKER.

The President: The report will be spread upon the minutes.

On motion a recess was taken, subject to the call of the president.

THIRD SESSION—THURSDAY FORENOON.

July 10, 1902.

The meeting was called to order by the president at 10:30 a. m.

The minutes of the previous session were read and approved.

On motion, a communication from the Hotel Victory to Mr. Hopp, the secretary, was referred to the committee on time and place of next meeting.

Mr. Hopp: In regard to the report of the committee on papers and queries, I have to say that Prof. Army was called to his home in New Orleans by telegram a few days before the meeting, as his father was very sick; but the only report he had to make was, that he notified the members of the committee that they were requested to prepare papers, but up to date he had not received any.

Prof. Geo. B. Kauffman read the report of the committee on legislation, as follows:

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON LEGISLATION.

This committee has to report the past year to have been one of unusual activity in the presentation of measures affecting the drug trade both directly and indirectly.

There were presented in the legislature the past winter bills in such numbers and of such vital importance in their bearing on our calling as to make it a record breaking period. Never before has your committee been called upon to be so continually on the alert and to meet such a variety of conditions.

The organization of the auxiliary branch of this association came just in the niche of time, and may be considered a happy accident in as much as the important part it was to take in the events following so soon after its birth could have been foreseen.

The statement of the results of legislative action will be made in the report of the auxiliary and for that reason this committee will ask to be excused from a detailed report as involving a duplication of statement.

It seems proper however to call attention at this time to the ineffective organization of this committee, and its almost powerless condition during times of agitation and in crises which require prompt action.

This is not due to a lack of interest or to indolence on the part of its members; on the contrary the members of the present committee have shown themselves ever ready to do what they can and to aid in the work whenever called upon; but a committee widely scattered, with no ready means of communication, without funds for even ordinary expenses, cannot in reason be expected to accomplish much.

As the auxiliary branch seems now to be successfully organized we have to suggest that the duties which have heretofore fallen to this committee may be properly consigned to the care of that branch and the committee discontinued.

We are free to confess (and glad to give the credit) that without the work of the auxiliary board last winter, we would not now be in so favorable a position.

Aside from the suggestion concerning the organization of this committee this report is merely a form, the true report being left to the auxiliary.

B. S. YOUNG,
G. L. HECHLER.

On motion of Mr. Hopp, the report was accepted and spread upon the minutes.

It was moved and carried, that the present session be adjourned to eight o'clock this evening, to consider the report of the auxiliary.

The report of the committee on the history of pharmacy in Ohio was then called for.

Prof. Beal: The committee on the history of pharmacy in Ohio is at work collecting materials for this history; and the amount of material that we have on hand, does not at this time justify a written report.

It is our intention—or perhaps I had better say our hope—to be able to collect together many of the stray scraps of information and matters of historical interest which are in the possession of the elder members of this association, and of the elder members of the profession throughout the state, to gather all of these materials together and put them in such shape that they can be published and permanently preserved.

The work which the Veteran Apothecaries' Association, of Chicago, has accomplished, and a similar association in the state of Wisconsin, are good examples of the great value of materials of this character. Both of these associations have, at the expense of great labor and some considerable financial expenditure, collected together a mass of information that will stand and be referred to for years, and possibly for centuries to come, when the time comes for the writing of the great history of the profession of pharmacy.

We believe that many portions of this state are rich in historical matters; these are matters of information that are within reach of certain members of the profession. The committee is not able to place its hands upon these things, and it desires the serious and earnest co-operation of every member of this association. We shall probably also ask, in due time, that the association grant us some financial assistance which can be used in the necessary expenditures which will have to be made in order to acquire these matters of information.

The President: Under the circumstances, this is, perhaps all the report that could be accepted. I think that I can take credit to myself for having appointed an excellent committee for this purpose, and I sincerely hope that the man who is unfortunate enough to be my successor, will continue it.

Mr. Freericks: As a member of the committee on the history of pharmacy in Ohio, I would ask that the association grant us $25.00 for postage and the necessary minor expenses which we will be obliged to incur in the course of the next year. (Motion seconded by Mr. Hopp).

On motion of Mr. Vortkamp, the motion was amended to read that the money be subject to the order of the chairman of the committee, and that the committee be given further time to report. The amendment was accepted.

The President: While it is quite probable that this same committee will be reappointed, it is hardly within the power of the association to commit the incoming president to appoint the same committee; that would practically be the allowance of an order on the president to do that.

The motion as amended, was carried.

Mr. Voss: I am not chairman of the committee on insurance and he is not present, nor has he corresponded with me in regard to making out a report. I hardly know what the committee will report, because the secretary of the fire insurance company will give us a very lengthy report, which will virtually cover what the committee would have to report.

Mr. Voss: The committee appointed to select names of officers of this association, beg leave to submit for your kind consideration the following names:

President.....	O. N. Garrett, Hillsboro,
First Vice President.....	H. F. Vortkamp, Lima.
Second Vice President.....	Adam Schmidt, Springfield.
Permanent Secretary.....	L. C. Hopp, Cleveland.
Permanent Treasurer.....	John H. Von Stein, Upper Sandusky.
Executive Committee;.....	{ Geo. W. Voss, Cleveland.
	{ Fred. W. Herbst, Columbus.
	{ Albert Wetterstroem, Cincinnati.

I move that the President cast the ballot for the names that the committee has submitted.

The report was accepted, the motion duly carried, and the president cast the ballot of the association for the names submitted, the new officers being declared duly elected.

The committee appointed to select names for the appointment of a member of the Ohio Board of Pharmacy by the Governor, reported the following names as being selected: F. H. King, Delphos; Frank Amann, Portsmouth; J. H. Brinker, Bellevue; H. J. Eady, Elyria; J. M. McCann, Toledo.

On motion the report was accepted.

The report of the committee on time and place of next meeting was made by Mr. McCann, its chairman.

Mr. McCann: The committee have agreed that we meet at Toledo, Ohio, next year. I would like to say now, in my personal capacity as a citizen of Toledo and a resident thereof, and also as a retail druggist, that we extend to you a very hearty invitation. Toledo is a good town to come to; the best town on earth. You are aware that we have a Golden Rule mayor, and we all practice the Golden Rule in our every day lives, and we think we know how to treat the stranger that comes within our gates. So I say, as a citizen of Toledo to the retail druggists, on behalf of the citizens and the retail druggists of Toledo, we extend to you a cordial invitation to accept our hospitality. (Applause.)

Mr. Hopp: I move that the report be accepted, and I am glad to know that Toledo has sent us an invitation to have our next meeting there. The only invitation we have ever had from Toledo was the first meeting that we held there. The second meeting that we held there we went without an invitation. Up to this time Toledo has gradually pulled away from us, kept pulling away. They saw a good thing, realized that they ought to belong, and they joined us this winter, and now they come to us and ask us to come there and hold a meeting. I therefore make a motion that we accept Toledo as our next meeting place.

Mr. McCann: I would suggest that we have the meeting between the 15th and the last of June.

The President: We will leave that to the Toledo Association.

Motion seconded, and carried.

The President: Mr. McCann, you can report to the Toledo Association that we have accepted their invitation, and that you can get together and let the executive committee know about what time you choose.

Mr. Byrne: If it is in order at this time, I would like to present an invitation which has been extended by Mr. Nelson, of Nelson, Baker & Co., of Detroit, and Mr. Wm. M. Warren, of Parke, Davis & Co. These two gentlemen present to the association personally, not as for their firms, but personally—a cordial invitation to accept of their hospitality tomorrow afternoon, the occasion being a boat ride on the Steamer "Islander," to leave the dock at Mackinac Island at two o'clock, to take a trip about the island and through Les Cheneaux Islands, celebrated for their scenery, their good fishing and their beautiful club houses, returning at 6:30 or 7 o'clock in the evening. They extend this invitation to the entire association and their friends, numbering I presume, in the neighborhood of 250 persons. They will be greatly gratified if the association will accept of their hospitality for tomorrow afternoon. I move that the association accept their kind invitation, with thanks.

Motion carried unanimously.

Mr. Charles Freericks presented the following resolution for the consideration of the association, and moved that it be referred to a committee of five for careful consideration, they to report to the association later.

WHEREAS, The Ohio State Pharmaceutical Association has heretofore been, and is now strongly in favor of the work undertaken by the National Association of Retail Druggists in seeking to obtain and to retain a just and honest profit on "patents" for the retail druggist, and

WHEREAS, this association at its last meeting, as a means of accomplishing these objects of the N. A. R. D. strongly endorsed a contract basis for operation between the parties, and for that reason recommended the adoption of the "Worcester" plan, and

WHEREAS, Decisions rendered by courts in various parts of the country make it unlikely that the "Worcester" plan as it was originally, or as it may be modified will be uniformly upheld, which must be considered as of first importance, and

WHEREAS, The Ohio State Pharmaceutical Association now more than ever, believes the establishment of contractual relationship necessary in order to remedy the cut-rate evil, and, further believes that a permanent benefit can not be attained in any other manner, now therefore,

BE IT RESOLVED, That the Ohio State Pharmaceutical Association in meeting assembled again endorses a plan under which a contractual relationship will be established between the parties and declares it upon due consideration, to be the only feasible manner in which to eliminate the cut-rate evil.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That on account of the various difficulties met with in obtaining such a contractual relationship under the "Worcester" plan, and in order to afford equal benefits to druggists of every state and section, this association recognizes the necessity for the adoption of an actual contract plan, as the proper "modus operandi" under which the work of the N. A. R. D. can be accomplished.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That in order to secure a contract plan against all trickery and evasion, and to guard against failure on that account the general adoption of a serial numbering or marking system by manufacturers is deemed an absolute necessity.

BE IT FINALLY RESOLVED, That these resolutions be presented to the N. A. R. D. at its next annual meeting to be held at Cleveland as embodying the sentiment of the Ohio State Pharmaceutical Association, and that the N. A. R. D. be requested to make every possible effort and to insist that the manufacturers operate under the actual contract and serial numbering system and that it declare a contract relationship to be necessary in order to carry to a successful end the work of the N. A. R. D.

Motion carried.

The President: We have Mr. Averill, of Kentucky, with us. When the Kentucky delegation was called upon yesterday he was away, and I think we will all be glad to hear from him now. Mr. Averill, of Kentucky.

Mr. President and Members of the Ohio Pharmaceutical Association :

It gives us, your brethren of Kentucky Pharmaceutical Association, unfeigned pleasure to be with you today and to share with you in the delights and charming features of this excursion, and to partake of such abounding hospitality.

I have the honor of being one of a delegation appointed by our state association to represent our body at this your annual meeting and to take the opportunity to present our most hearty fraternal greetings, and to assure you of our interest and sympathy in your work, and in all matters of mutual concern which make for the good of our profession.

Our association was organized about the same time as yours, antedating yours, I think, about one year, and although ours has not attained to the proportions of yours of the great and progressive state of Ohio, yet I think the ratio of the membership to the total number of pharmacists in the state is about the same.

In 1877 a few of us in our immediate section of Kentucky met by invitation in Frankfort to consider the advisability of organizing a state society. One druggist was present from each of the following places: Lexington, Covington, Nicholasville and Danville; three from Frankfort and six from the city of Louisville.

As all present were of one mind and the time apparently ripe for the movement, we repaired to the ample quarters of the Frankfort Opera House opposite, and proceeded to launch the K. P. A., with 13 members.

The brethren honored me with the presidency for the first two terms, and in the line of subsequent presidents the association has been itself honored by the service of some of the best and most progressive pharmacists of the state, and I may say of the United States, for we have had amongst the number C. Lewis Diehl, and the late eminent Emil Schaffer, although never our president, was a most active and useful member and promoter of the association during the earlier years.

As an association we have, in common with all similar organizations, had much to contend with in the apathy and indifference of the parties sought to be benefited, the pharmacists themselves, as well as in adverse and inadequate legislation.

However after years of disappointment and waiting we now have a pharmacy law that covers the whole state in its provisions, and to administer it a most able, well equipped and conscientious Board of Pharmacy, as at present constituted. This board has been greatly hampered and retarded for many years in its work, by insufficient legislation, the pharmacy law applying only to the larger cities and towns. With a good law applying to the whole state, and wisely and faithfully administered by our Board of Pharmacy we are justified in expecting a large increase in the ranks of our state association, and especially in pharmacists of the rising generation. The spread of pharmaceutical knowledge in this class, and the elevation of the standards of examinations for registration ought to give the state a better generation of pharmacists and a far stronger state association.

I am however very glad to be able to say that our association is today on a good working basis, with an able and zealous corps of officers and a membership of about 400 out of a total of 1800 pharmacists in the state. Of course this is far short of what it should be, and represents less than one-fourth the pharmacists within our borders.

May I ask your kind indulgence in a brief personal allusion and retrospect? Your speaker is now just rounding out his 50th year in active, continuous service in the retail drug store—as apprentice and proprietor.

In pleasant converse with your accomplished and agreeable Mr. M. A. Burkhardt, of Dayton, who entered the business as proprietor the same year that I did, we were speaking yesterday of the business then as compared with the present day. We have seen changes and changes in the work and development of the drug business.

As an apprentice I barely escaped the manipulation of the big stone mortar with pestle rigged to the ceiling, used in the preparation of mercurial ointment, blue mass, et cetera, by our predecessor, Dr. Francis Lloyd, an English apothecary of the old school.

But I by no means escaped the big iron mortar, in which crude drugs, barks and roots were reduced for maceration in the quaint globular-shaped bottles of that day.

Tinctures, pills, powders and ointments constituted the greater part of our dispensing. Prescriptions were few and far between, for the physicians of the town usually carried a limited stock of staple medicines in their offices and required their students to do the “mixing,” while the country doctor went armed and equipped always with his saddle bag of samples. Fluid extracts, coated pills, capsules and tablets were as yet unknown to us. The patent medicine monster was yet an infant, and the “pharmaceutical chemist” was yet a school boy. Good prices were maintained in that day, for instance the standard price of seidlitz powders was 50 cents per box, Epsom salts 25 cents per pound and coal oil $1.25 per gallon. Tinctures retailed at 15 cents per ounce on a basis of 40 cents per gallon for alcohol.

In the upheaval of the civil war changes rapidly came and ushered in the dawn of the era of “elegant pharmacy,” with its train of fluids, elixirs, capsules, tablets, coated pills and pharmaceutical specialties.

It is not altogether clear whither we are to-day drifting in this era of rapid developments. For one, I do not take a pessimistic view of the future status of pharmacy, but of one thing I am fully persuaded, the vital and pressing need for the protection and betterment of our profession is organization—local, state and national. We should give our hearty aid and support to the American Pharmaceutical Association, shortly to celebrate its semi-centennial in Philadelphia, as well as to the National Association of Retail Druggists, which has done such good service for our profession and needs our active financial support and encouragement to enable it to carry on the good work to still larger results. With these and with strong state associations, and multiplied local societies, all working harmoniously to the same end the future is assured, for the power of well-directed, concerted action is well nigh unlimited.

Shall we awake to our duties, our privileges and our opportunities? We, the Kentucky Pharmaceutical Association, join heart and hand with you in the work, in our respective spheres, for the common weal of the pharmacist, and most heartily wish you Godspeed in every good word and work.

The President: Gentlemen and Mr. Averill, we heartily thank you for your kind words, and it certainly must have been a pleasure to all of us to listen to the rare spirit of your address. I think that it does us all good to talk over old times a little, and we hope that your visit to us will continue to be pleasant.

On motion of Mr. Herbst, a vote of thanks was extended to Mr. Averill, and his address was referred to the committee on publication.

On motion, a recess was taken until 8 o'clock, p. m.

FOURTH SESSION—THURSDAY EVENING.

July 10th, 1902.

The meeting was called to order by the president, at 8:30 p. m., and the minutes of last meeting were read and approved.

The president then called upon Mr. George B. Kauffman for the report of the auxiliary.

Prof. Kauffman: Mr. President and gentlemen, I have prepared but a very short report of the auxiliary, having the idea that it would be much more satisfactory to you to ask questions such as may be in your mind, regarding the organization and the work, and the condition of the auxiliary. You all know its history—that it was the result of action which was taken at our meeting last year at Dayton. I will read the short statement which I have prepared, and then will place myself in readiness to answer any questions which any of you feel disposed to ask.

REPORT OF THE AUXILIARY BOARD.

Following the appointment of this board at the Dayton meeting last year its organization was effected by the election of Mr. John Byrne, president, and Geo. B. Kauffman, secretary and treasurer.

The first effort of the board was to secure membership, and to this end a circular letter, a copy of which follows, was sent to the drug trade of the state, calling attention to the object of the auxiliary and the benefits to be expected from membership.

The result of this letter was discouraging, but few favorable replies being received. It was followed however by others, and a continual correspondence was kept up until a considerable number had joined and every druggist in the state had heard about our plans.

This liberal use of the mail was fortunate as it made our aims and objects known and placed us in position to take up and carry through the difficult task which came with the meeting of the legislature in January.

This body was prolific in measures effecting the druggist, but while they made us work hard to protect our interests they were also the means of building up our membership, the advantage of organized effort being most effectively demonstrated.

The membership has now reached 307, which considering the age of the movement is very gratifying. A remarkable feature of the membership however is that it consists largely of new members of the association who have been attracted by the auxiliary while the old members have to a great extent failed to avail themselves of their privilege.

No legal cases have been brought to the notice of the board during the first year, but a sufficient basis for effort has been furnished by the measures presented at the last meeting of the legislation. The various bills presented are attached to this report. The board spent much time in the legislative halls, explaining the bearing of the several laws and with remarkable success warding off vicious legislation. In this connection it is proper to acknowledge the invaluable aid extended by Representative Beal and Senator Krouse who not only saw to it that the board had every opportunity to present their case but themselves took up the work with telling effect.

On several occasions the board felt it necessary to call on the members for aid, and we wish here to compliment all on the prompt and hearty response.

All of the bills which failed of passage were opposed by the board. Chief of these were the soda water bill, the Nihart bill, the Cain bill, and the Middleton amendment bill. All which passed were either favored by the board or considered of no particular importance.

The Cain bill substitute is the one measure of prime importance to us, and to Prof. Beal must be given the credit of having kept our interests intact and of saving us from disaster.

To Mr. Ogier also the board acknowledges its obligations. From his office in the State House he was in position to keep us advised of what was going on and his service was of great value to us.

The auxiliary we think has during its first year demonstrated its value and as it is now fairly strong we hope you will deem it wise to push its development to the position of greater usefulness which it should and easily can attain.

[Circular Letter.]

COLUMBUS, OHIO, August 30, 1901.

DEAR SIR: At the meeting of the O. S. P. A. for 1901 at Dayton, a committee was appointed to organize an "auxiliary," the purpose of which should be to make the association of more real and practical benefit to its members.

The main object of the auxiliary is to protect its members from unfair and unjust suits at law. Our members have in the past been subjected to much persecution and prosecution on mere pretext, and at present we are threatened with an extension of this sort of annoyance. It is the purpose of the auxiliary to take up and carry through the courts suits brought against our members whenever these actions are of the character described, relieving the individual member from the expense and much of the worry incident to them. It must be understood, however, that it is not the purpose of the auxiliary to protect any member in wrong-doing or in direct violation of law.

It is the further purpose of the auxiliary to secure just and fair interpretation of existing laws and to prevent as far as we are able the passing of laws inimical to our interests.

The organization of the central board of control appears at the head of this letter. Membership is limited to members of the state association. If you are not a member you can become one at any time by applying to any of the officers or to any member.

To secure the benefits of the protection afforded by the auxiliary, you should notify the secretary of your desire to be placed on the list and remit to him the first assessment of $2.00. Further advice and information concerning the work of the auxiliary will be sent you from time to time.

By order of the board of control,

G. B. KAUFFMAN, Secretary.

That is as far as I consider it necessary to go in a formal report, and, as I said, I am ready to answer any questions. As regards the financial condition of the auxiliary, I would say that it is in fairly good shape. No money has been squandered, but there are two questions regarding the statement of these things. First, there are a number of the members of this state association who have no interest in the auxiliary, are not members of the auxiliary, and the question which presents itself from that consideration is, whether these men should know the exact condition of affairs—what we are and have been doing, and all about it, not being members themselves.

Another consideration is, that there are some expenditures which are made necessary by unique conditions, which, perhaps, should not be generally stated. I would simply state, broadly, that the financial condition of the auxiliary is excellent. We have not spent all the money which we have received, by a considerable, and have a very good basis upon which to continue our work.

It has seemed to me that the auxiliary has proven that it can be made of very great value, and that the time has come when it should be worked out upon more definite plans. Up to the present, we have no constitution, we have no by-laws; we have no regulations under which we should work, or are working. At the first, it was thought not desirable to have a number of rules, feeling that perhaps we would be bound down by such conditions; but we have grown almost beyond our expectation, and have become of such size that it seems almost necessary now, that some formal frame of government be devised for the auxiliary. I am ready to answer any questions.

Mr. Voss: I would like to state to Prof. Kauffman, that if he wishes a form of rules and regulations, that the Cleveland Drug Association, a number of years ago, formed an auxiliary, and we have some rules and by-laws which I can mail to you, if you wish a copy.

Prof. Kauffman: I have those.

Mr. Vortkamp: There is one question I would like to ask. I would like to know what the druggists would get in case we were sued for any infraction of the law?

Prof. Kauffman: That would depend upon the character of the suit.

Mr. Vortkamp: Say for selling liquor to the wrong person.

Prof. Kauffman: I think that our first circular, and several of those which have followed it, made the distinct statement that the auxiliary could not, would not, and had no intention of trying to protect any member in direct infraction of law. That is not the purpose of the auxiliary. If you join the auxiliary with the expectation that you may throw everything wide open, and "go it," and the auxiliary will take care of you, you are under a wrong impression, entirely. It is not to protect you in the infraction of law, but it is to protect you under the law.

If you are arrested or sued for damages, or anything of that nature, and you have a case—that is, you are not distinctly and clearly at fault, have not knowingly broken the law—then you are under the protection of the auxiliary. They will take your case, and fight it for you, if you have one. If you are knowingly breaking the law, you cannot expect to be protected under such conditions.

Mr. Hechler: I understood Mr. Kauffman to say that he was ready to answer any question.

Prof. Kauffman: As far as I am able.

Mr. Hechler: I wish to inquire, in your opinion, is it more beneficial for the Pharmaceutical Association to play cards, or go into a meeting to discuss particular problems that come before it?

Prof. Kauffman: That is beyond me.

Mr. Hopp: I will state to Mr. Vortkamp, that we have an association in Cleveland which is similar to this auxiliary, which has been in existence for a good many years. Our fee there was $5.00, and assessments were to be paid to the amount of $5.00 each year, until four assessments were paid in. One firm in Cleveland got a lot of petrolatum and put it up in small bottles, then put a sign up in the window, "true vaseline, 5 cents a bottle." It was not true vaseline, they were infringing on Chesebrough's trademark of vaseline. Our board of control met and considered the subject, and sent word to that firm that if they wanted to remain in the auxiliary of the Cleveland association, that kind of business would have to be abandoned; also, that if they were arrested for such practice, the auxiliary would not lend their aid in their defense. The firm took out their vaseline sign and put up a sign reading "petrolatum."

Mr. Vortkamp: I do not wish to be understood as having asked that question because I personally sell liquor, I do not sell it. I have not got it in the store. I asked it for some other reason.

Prof. Kauffman: I am glad that question was asked, because I was told this evening, before this meeting was called, that there were a number of members who had joined this auxiliary under the impression that by so doing they would then be at liberty to sell whisky freely, just as much, and as often, and to whomsoever they might please, and that the auxiliary would protect them in such action. I am glad to have the opportunity to correct any such impression; and I wish to say further that so far the value of the auxiliary has not been in the prosecution of legal cases, but in its work before the legislature. That is, indeed, all that we have done so far. But consider that alone. Mr. Hopp, in his circular which was sent out to the members of the association, made the statement that a saving of something over $100,000.00 had been effected to the drug trade of the state. Prof. Beal says he has figured it up, and it figures over $800,000.00, the amount of taxes which would have been levied on the drug trade of the state had the measures proposed last winter been passed.

Mr. Vortkamp: What has become of that Springfield case?

Mr. Herbst: The case has been dropped. Mr. Norris refused to pay $100 for the brief in the Supreme Court, on account of the passage of the Cain bill, knocking him out, and the case is off of the docket now.

Mr. Charles Freericks: Will you give a supposed case, in which the aid of the auxiliary would be invoked?

Prof. Kauffman: A case where a prescription was made for tincture aconite, which was properly put up and labeled according to the prescription and delivered to the patient, who took it home and allowed his child, I believe it was, to get hold of it, or gave it an excessive dose, not according to directions, and then brought suit against the druggist because he didn't label it "poison."

Mr. Hechler: Under the old poison law, you could hardly make the statement that it was properly labeled. That has been the contention between the court and the druggist, whether it was necessary to label a prescription that contains poison—"POISON."

Prof. Kauffman: That is a good illustration of the kind of case which the auxiliary would be very glad to take up.

Mr. Hechler: What would the auxiliary do with a case of that kind? Would they assist the druggist?

Prof. Kauffman: Not only assist the druggist; they would take the entire burden of the case and do the fighting, pay the attorneys' fees, the court costs, and all that.

Mr. Hechler: They would not take any cases that were in existence before the auxiliary was organized?

Prof. Kauffman: No, they could not do that, any more than an insurance man would give an insurance policy on a building that had already burned down. They are not finished, but they are cases of record, and we could not finish up anything that did not belong to us before we came.

Mr. Hechler: What do you suppose the executive committee would do with a case of this kind? If a party came into the store and asked for cod liver oil, and the customer claimed that by a mistake of the clerk he received machine oil, although the clerk maintains that he did not sell machine oil, but cod liver oil; that is a matter that is to be tested in court, but nevertheless, the party brought a damage suit for $5,000, because they had taken a teaspoonful of machine oil, and set their wheels going so fast that it broke down a woman's health for the rest of her life. What would they do in a case of that kind?

Prof. Kauffman: That sort of a thing would seem to me to be very easily demonstrated to the minds of any board, as to whether there was a case there for the auxiliary or not. I do not think the auxiliary could properly take up and fight a suit for damages, in a case where a clear mistake had been made.

Mr. Hechler: But the ones who sold the stuff maintained that they gave the right thing, cod liver oil.

Prof. Kauffman: The board would be very glad to investigate such a claim, and if in their opinion the claim was proper, they would take up the case.

Mr. Hechler: Where a man is innocent, and has not broken any laws. That case just referred to, you will not have to take up, because it occurred before this auxiliary came into existence.

Prof. Kauffman: This board is a sort of judiciary in itself. They try the case first, before they undertake to do anything with it, and if, in their opinion, the case is a just one, then they take it up. If the party is in error, and has no case, in their opinion, then they leave it alone. If your drug clerk should make it evident, to the satisfaction of the board, that he had dispensed cod liver oil instead of machine oil, they would fight his case for him.

Mr. Vortkamp: In a case of that kind, where you decide against him, wouldn't that prejudice his case in court?

Prof. Kauffman: The court would have no knowledge of that.

The President: I think, without any doubt, the auxiliary has proved itself to be an absolute necessity. We all know that there seems to be a general opinion among perhaps three-fourths of the people who go to the legislature, in every state in the union that if they want to get a little notoriety, they must get up or introduce some bill that will affect a drug store. It is popular opinion that the druggist is getting rich too fast, that he is making altogether too big profits, and therefore he can afford to pay the bills of the community. Therefore, unless there is some one on the ground to watch those things properly, we get into trouble.

If it had not been for the auxiliary this year, the druggists of Ohio would have gotten into very serious trouble. It is an absolute fact that anywhere from one-half to three-fourths of the druggists of the State of Ohio would have been simply driven out of business, or they would have had to become saloons. That, of itself, ought to be sufficient reason for the existence of an auxiliary of this kind. I myself am quite conversant with a great deal of the work that this auxiliary did; and while it was, to an extent, easy enough to fight, if we had not had anybody there who was posted, and posted in the start, with authority to take up the fight, there would not have been any use. One man cannot do much fighting, without backing. For instance, when the passage of this Cain law came up, how many telegrams came in that day, Mr. Kauffman, do you know?

Prof. Kauffman: Something in the neighborhood of twelve or fifteen hundred telegrams came to the state house that morning.

The President: Mr. Kauffman telegraphed me that morning, and I have a long distance pay-station in my store, and I telephoned to some seven or eight druggists in our own county and in adjoining counties, for fear that he might have missed some of them, or for fear that they might not pay any attention to it. For instance, I telephoned to Mr. Godfrey, son-in-law or brother-in-law of Senator Godfrey, and he said: "Godfrey will do anything he can, it is not necessary to telegraph him, and our representative is all right; no need to telegraph him, everything is all right." And I telephoned up to Wood county; "Oh, Painter is all right; no need to telegraph him." That was the situation, to quite an extent, all over the state. Unless somebody brought the fact to their notice that it was necessary that the representative should have some excuse. You get down into the legislature, and it becomes a case of "you scratch my back, and I'll scratch yours."

Mr. Beal, perhaps, is in the legislature, and he wants to work for us; he approaches some member to help him get some measure through, and he says to him "No, I cannot do this for you because our people don't want it." If every one of those people gets from one to a dozen telegrams from his constituents, as prominent as most druggists are through the state in every political district, he cannot make that kind of an argument to Mr. Beal. That is one of the things that the auxiliary did. That, you can understand. There were a great many other things that it was necessary for the auxiliary to do, as Mr. Kauffman says, it is perhaps best not to go into detail.

I certainly think that every member of the state association ought to join the auxiliary, ought to have confidence enough in the organization, in the board of control, and to back them up in any request that they may make on the spur of the moment, because a state legislature, while perhaps they are not railroaders, yet they "railroad" bills through very quickly sometimes.

Mr. Hechler: I wish to ask another question, and I wish to offer an apology. I do not wish to tire him too much, and I do not wish to pester him with questions solely for my own gratification, but I would like to bring matters before the association as much as possible, to see what amount of good that organization can do, and to show what a grand investment the few dollars are that we have put into the organization, and what a great benefit, revenue or dividend it has returned to us.

There is no question but what any one of you, rather than to see the Cain law go on our statute books, would have been willing to pay $100, when it came to the final test, when it looked as if it would pass; any one of you, if you understood the situation as you ought, would have been glad to give up $100. And still the money is not such a great amount that we pay in. It is your assistance and your backing and the number of members, and the strength that we have back of us, that brings this organization to a degree of power where the legislature, and the various concerns that we deal with, patent medicine concerns and such matters, respect us.

It seems to-day to be the best plan. It worked well in Cleveland; it did wonders for us, and it seems to me to-day as though that was really the business end of our organization. I would like to ask the chairman how much work we can expect from them in regard to eradicating somewhat the evil of price-cutting in the state of Ohio?

Prof. Kauffman: The matter of price-cutting is something which, so far, the auxiliary board has not considered at all. We have not thought that that was work for the auxiliary board. The object of the auxiliary board was to take care of legislative and legal matters only, not the trade matters. We want to leave something anyhow, for the state association to do. We have, therefore, paid no attention, and it was not in my mind at least to do anything along the line of commercial action.

Mr. Hechler: If this improved Worcester plan should come in existence, whereby contracts would have to be enforced by lawsuits, they naturally would expect—

Prof. Kauffman: Then you are bringing about an entirely different condition. When that comes, it comes more within the province of the auxiliary.

Mr. Hechler: We have that end in view also, haven't we?

Mr. Kauffman: It is perfectly proper for the association to designate what character of work the auxiliary shall do; if it is your pleasure that they shall take up work along those lines, it is proper that you should put it upon them.

Mr. Burkhardt: Referring to the point that Mr. Hechler raised. I think so far the auxiliary has done very well without a constitution and by-laws, and without them they can do as they see fit. Whereas, if they have a constitution and by-laws, they may find some clause in these by-laws that would prevent them from taking action in cases where it would be proper for them to take action, but the by-laws and constitution would compel them to refrain; and I believe under the present condition of things it would be just as well to allow the auxiliary to work as they have, without the adoption of any by-laws.

Mr. Herbst: Speaking about the effect of the auxiliary during the time the Cain bill was up in the legislature. One morning, there was a storm of messengers rushed into the legislature with telegrams, six, eight and ten for every member. The first thing, Dr. Cain flew up, and said, "Hell has broken loose among the druggists." He was anxious to get the bill through, because they were receiving telegrams by the hundred. It goes to show what effect it has. It stimulates the members when they hear from their local people. The effect was such, that we could have gotten almost anything through, that day. They wanted to please the druggists. The effect was like magic. There is nothing so effective as an organization that is supported by people from their home counties, because they like to hear from their constituents.

Prof. Beal: I would like to add a word or two, very much along the same line as the remarks of Col. Herbst, and that is, to the effectiveness of the work done by the auxiliary. We were fortunate last year, in having in the legislature no less than five or six ex-druggists, including myself, who were, of course, in harmony with the drug trade, who understood the conditions, to some extent, under which druggists must do business. They were opposed to the different measures, the Cain bill, soda-water bill, and several others. But I wish to say, that in spite of the utmost endeavors of those men, we could not have defeated those bills, or at least not more than one or two of them, if it had not been for the auxiliary. It is folly to rely altogether upon the judgment of a member of the legislature, without calling his attention to the particular measures in which you are interested. We had during the past year, in the four months in which we were in session, bills introduced which, in their printed condition, would have made a pile about that high (showing). There was not a member of the legislature who had read one-fourth of those bills. I made an effort, but gave it up in utter disgust. It is not possible for a man to inform himself perfectly upon the contents and intents of all the measures which are introduced from time to time, and from different sections, bearing upon so many different matters. A member of the legislature, no matter how zealous he may be, or how earnest he may be, in his desire to serve his constituents ably and well, must depend upon them to a large extent, to be informed as to their wishes concerning these different measures.

Of course there are a great many in which the intent is plain upon their face, in which the effect of the bill is evident from a simple perusal, or where the title is sufficient to awaken a suspicion as to the purpose of the measure. But if you want him to act you must write or wire him in the majority of cases. You want to say to him, "Mr. Jones, I am interested for or against this bill, and I want you to work for or against it," and nine times out of ten Mr. Jones will then take the measure up actively, and do his best to comply with your wishes.

I want to say further, that if this auxiliary receives anything like the support that it is fairly entitled to from the druggists of the state of Ohio, that they can defeat, absolutely, every bit of the obnoxious legislation that is introduced into our General Assembly, absolutely defeat it. It is very easy to defeat a bill if you go at it right, and a sufficient number of people in a sufficient number of the corners of the state indicate their attitude upon the question.

In the second place, I will say that we can not only defeat obnoxious legislation, but that we can secure the passage of every reasonable and honorable measure that we desire to have passed.

Those are my candid opinions, based upon the experience that I had last year.

Owing to the activity of the auxiliary committee, I was very well acquainted with their methods, and with the work which they had to contend with ; and notwithstanding what the gentleman from Dayton has remarked about the liability of tying our auxiliary committee down by a constitution, and hard and fast rules, while there is a great deal of truth in that, still I am convinced of the fact that if the auxiliary had something more in the nature of a definite plan upon which they could operate, limiting and prescribing the class of cases which they could justly undertake with profit to that organization and with profit to the profession at large, that it would aid them very materially in their work.

I agree that these rules should not be hard and fast, they should not attempt to go into detail, but I think there should be something a little more specific than what we have now, which is simply the discretion of the committee. The committee would very frequently hesitate to take up certain things, because, they would say, we have no authority to take up this particular case ; so that they are just as liable to be hampered on the one side by having no rules whatever, as they would be on the other side by having them. It seems to me, therefore, that it should be possible to evolve a simple and yet comprehensive and pliable plan of operations. And, for the purpose of bringing it more definitely before the house, I will move, Mr. President, that the president of the auxiliary committee be requested to appoint a committee to prepare a simple plan of organization or plan of operations, to be reported at a special meeting of the auxiliary called by the president of the auxiliary for consideration and approval. I make that as my motion.

Seconded by Mr. Hechler.

Prof. Kauffman : Before voting on this motion, I want to call the attention of the members to the uncertain position of the auxiliary just at the present time. There was a board of five appointed at the last meeting in Dayton. Those five are Mr. Byrne, Mr. Herbst, Mr. Matson, Mr. Wendt and myself. Presumably, that board was appointed for one year, although no statement of such condition was made ; yet that seems to be the unwritten law of our committees ; and, as we now stand, we are simply a committee of the state association.

I believe that it is proper for me, representing my colleagues on the board, to rise here now, and say that our term of office has expired, and that we are ready to turn over to you the auxiliary with its 305 members and its treasurer's balance of some several hundred dollars, and retire from office.

Mr. Freericks: I think, if Mr. Kauffman will give his memory a jog, he will find that that committee was appointed until their successors should be appointed, and should act as such. If I am not mistaken, I was present at the meeting, and I think that was put in; at least, I spoke to some of the gentlemen present at that time, and perhaps the minutes will show it.

Prof. Kauffman: I just presented this contention in order to show you the uncertain state of the auxiliary as it now is, without any constitution or by-laws. During the year just past, we have done very well without such, and, indeed, have felt free to act; it has been a good thing, but I think now, with others, that we have outgrown that condition. It is time that we were bound down a little more. There is a little too much at stake now.

Prof. Beal: I will ask Mr. Kauffman whether this motion, if it prevailed, would not tend to remove that state of affairs?

Prof. Kauffman: I think so; I hope I carried the impression that I was in favor of such motion.

Mr. Hopp: I had in view making such motion before Prof. Beal made his motion. I do not want it accepted as an amendment unless it is agreeable to Prof. Beal to refer this entire matter to the board of control. They have worked with this for a year, and I think they could do it more intelligently than a committee that would be appointed by the president. They can call in such help as they desire, to assist them in forming it. Furthermore, there is not, and probably will not be any legislative action taken this fall, that they could continue on with their work as they have been doing, and present a report to our meeting, next year. I think it ought to be left in the hands of the board of control, to get whatever help they need to assist them. Confirm this auxiliary committee, and instruct them to formulate a plan. This matter will take time; they cannot accomplish it in a few hours, they cannot do it at this meeting. We will have a large crowd at Toledo, and a much larger representation than if you merely call a meeting of the auxiliary. If it is agreeable, I will make that as an amendment.

Mr. McCann: What is the board of control?

Mr. Hopp: The board of control of the auxiliary, composed of this committee. They have been doing this work, now for a year. They would know better what is required than a special committee which might be appointed.

Mr. McCann: Would it be competent now, to submit a motion that this present committee be continued? If so, I make a motion to that effect.

Mr. Herbst: The auxiliary committee would like to have instruction from this association as to what they want done. We have gone so far, and now it is up to you to instruct us. We want some rules laid down as to what is to be done; and the action ought to be taken and not deferred, because a case may come up tomorrow or next day.

Prof. Kauffman: What I may say may not bear directly upon this motion, yet it will, because it will give you some idea of the troubles which we are laboring under, the ones which we meet. It is to be expected, of course, that we are to have some difficulties, but sometimes they come from sources which hurt—from those people we are trying to benefit.

That committee, or auxiliary board, as you all know, is made up of residents of Columbus; they all live in Columbus. It was appointed from Columbus, in order that they might be at hand at the seat of war. I had been several times on the regular legislative committee of the state association: I was chairman of it, this past year, and we had on that regular legislative committee the best men in the association—Mr. Hechler, Prof. Young, Mr. DeLang, Mr. Kerr—all good, earnest, active men; yet, with the exception of myself, they were 100 miles away; they could not help me much; they could not give the time and spend the money to come to Columbus when I needed them, and possibly could not come because of their business interests. On several occasions, even if they were ready to start at a moment's notice, they could not have reached me in time to have helped me. And yet, in spite of all these conditions, we hear every now and then the assertion that "Columbus is trying to run this whole thing." We do not want it: if some of you will come and attend to it, we would be mighty glad to be relieved.

Mr. Hechler: I usually agree with you, but I do not quite agree with you in that statement about the committee on legislation. I differ with you a good deal, and I presume here is the proper place to express our opinions on such matters.

This is not in regard to the auxiliary committee at all: this is in regard to the committee of the state association on legislation. You said that you wanted them in Columbus or you could not get them in time to do any good. Now, you know very well that the committee itself could not do you any good if they came to Columbus. What the committee is supposed to do, and what the committee did do—I know what the committee did when I started to set the body, our local organization, in motion: as quick as possible to either get funds or bring pressure on the legislature; and I believe there are not many counties which sent such a tremendous pressure to its legislators as Cuyahoga county did; and that did more good than if the committee went to Columbus and spent a lot of money and sat together and talked matters over. You want your committee separated, so you reach your local organizations, and bring in the pressure, as Prof. Beal has said, on your various representatives. That is where your power is. Suppose they came to the legislative halls, it is a great question if they would let them go in there and talk to the legislators. Consequently, you can exert more power at home through the various organizations, to have the legislature act in conformity with our wishes.

Prof. Kauffman: I want to say that I agree heartily with all that Mr. Hechler has said, and I do not for a moment want to create the impression that these members are not valuable; but what I mean to say is, that they are not available at the crisis. Last winter Mr. Byrne, sitting there, spent, I will venture to say, not less than three or four weeks of solid time in the state house. Mr. Herbst was there three or four times as much; he spent two or three months of solid time in the state house. I myself spent an hour or two there, and other members of the auxiliary board. If there is any member of the committee on legislation who would be willing to go down there and labor in that sort of way, I would be glad again to have their help, but I cannot expect that.

Mr. Hechler: You know that you need both kinds of help.

Prof. Kauffman: We need both. I am not urging against the efficiency of outside members of the committee; they do lots of good work, but it does not justify the criticism which was made against the auxiliary board.

Mr. Hechler: What I want the auxiliary committee to do is to produce results; I do not care who the men are, or where they live; we want results, and results we have got. Do not understand me for a minute to make any criticism of what they have done.

Prof. Young: To bring the matter to a focus, I offer as an amendment to Prof. Beal's motion, that this matter be referred to the board of control of the auxiliary, as a committee to carry out the suggestions of Prof. Kauffman.

Amendment accepted and seconded by Prof. Beal.

Prof. Kauffman: I would like as a matter of privilege, to ask the mover if he will not please add Prof. Beal, from the association, to that committee?

The amendment was accepted by Prof. Young.

The President: It is moved and seconded that the present board of control of the auxiliary, consisting of Messrs. Byrne, Herbst, Kauffman, Wendt, Matson, and Prof. J. H. Beal, be instructed to formulate a set of rules or a code of rules and regulations.

Motion carried.

Prof. Young: I move that the board of control be authorized to call to their assistance any member of the association; and I understand that to mean that any member of the association that is called upon, would have to act.

Motion duly carried.

Prof. Beal: I move that the sincere and hearty thanks of this association be tendered to Mr. John Byrne, Col. Fred W. Herbst and Prof. Geo. B. Kauffman, of Columbus, for the efficient and invaluable aid rendered during the past year in matters before the Ohio Legislature, of interest to pharmacists; we owe them a great debt of gratitude.

Motion seconded by Messrs. Hechler and Hopp, and duly carried.

Mr. Vortkamp: This auxiliary's report has not been received or adopted; and I move that the report of the auxiliary be adopted and spread on the minutes, and a rising vote of thanks be tendered to that committee.

Motion carried.

Prof. Kauffman: Part of this, I think, should not go on the printed minutes. I have a list of names of members of the auxiliary, also the official statement; you are at liberty to inspect it, any one of you, but I do not think it is wise to print it.

Prof. Young: I move that this committee be authorized to prepare such a report and submit to this association as they would deem fit and proper to publish in our minutes.

Motion carried.

Mr. Hopp: I move that the same committee be elected for another year, consisting of Kauffman, Matson, Herbst, Byrne and Wendt.

Motion duly carried.

On motion, the rules were suspended, and the secretary was instructed to cast the ballot of the association for the re-election of the board of control of the auxiliary for another year, which he did.

Mr. Merrell: It seems to me that you might get into difficulty after awhile, by members of the association who are not members of the auxiliary voting on matters which do not affect them at all. That is a point which, it seems to me, ought to be very carefully considered by this committee.

Mr. Case: I wish to ask whether this is a meeting of the association, or of the auxiliary. If it is a meeting of the auxiliary, I am not entitled to vote, because I am not a member, but I have been voting, and if it is a meeting of the association, I certainly have a right to vote here.

The President: This is a meeting, I understand it, of the association—a special meeting of the association to consider the report of the auxiliary. If there is no objection, we will continue and call for the report of the board of pharmacy.

Mr. Voss, on behalf of the secretary of the board, read the report of the Ohio Board of Pharmacy, as follows:

REPORT OF THE OHIO BOARD OF PHARMACY.

About twenty-five years ago some of the most prominent and broad-minded men connected with pharmacy in Ohio determined to form a state society, the purpose of which was to advance, to protect and sustain all the interests of the retail druggists of Ohio, whether commercial or professional. One of the chief reasons advanced for the necessity of such an organization was the influence it could exert in securing the enactment of a suitable law, restricting the practice of pharmacy to those persons who possessed some qualifications for such service.

For almost seven years one of the chief, if not the supreme, topic of interest was a pharmacy law for Ohio.

The agitation by members of this association of the subject, the concentration of effort and the influence of the members of that period culminated in the Act of 1884.

It is no disparagement to the leading men of that period to say that in the light of the present day, that act appears crude and imperfect, for pharmacy laws in general were new then and the experience gained by observing their practical operations was extremely limited.

Suffice it to say that with all its defects it served a useful purpose for fourteen years, and proved to be an admirable nucleus about which the later and more perfect law of 1898 was crystallized.

Under this act, therefore, the board of pharmacy has been caring for the public welfare in so far as it may be affected by the occupation of the pharmacist for a period longer than four years. It is to this association chiefly that the board of pharmacy looks for that moral support in the performance of its duties which is so essential to every administrative function, and without which executive power in almost every department will surely fail.

The people of a commonwealth may not be relied upon to maintain by a common sentiment such laws as those which regulate the practice of the higher arts, such as pharmacy, medicine or dentistry, and it must be left to the unselfish interest of the followers of these sciences to render that degree of service as will make them most effective.

It is to this body, therefore, that the board of pharmacy makes an annual report as being the supreme instrument of its power for it must be remembered that legislative acts in a democracy are, or should be but the crystallization of a sentiment of a large body of people; large, either in numbers, or what may be more potent still, great in its intelligence, or greatest in its thoughtfulness for the weak and helpless.

As our population increases, and our civilization advances the profession of the pharmacist assumes a larger place in its relation to the welfare of men. The agents with which it deals are so potent for good in the healing of the nation's sick, and are such mighty instruments in the debauching and destruction of the nation's weak, that in the coming times those upon whom the state confers its authority to traffic in these substances must be greater in skill than those who wield the sword, wiser in council than those who deliberate in cabinets, and purer in spirit than those who preach peace and good will.

This, therefore, is our strong plea to your association, that in this year of 1902, the greatest of all years since the morning stars sang together, you solidify and strengthen your organization to such a degree that you start anew upon a path that will make you one of the most exalted agencies for good in this wonderful age of wonderful things.

This board especially pleads for your support. Not as an organization only, but as individuals. For more than eighteen years you have contributed of your means to support your board of pharmacy in its finances. Not one dollar has ever been asked or received from the state. The money you have paid in fees has not been directly for your benefit, but for the good of all the people. This is a noble sacrifice characteristic of ideal members of a noble profession, and we feel that its distribution should be carefully and economically made. A vast amount of work is done on a relatively small sum of money. This, however, is in line with an almost universal law. The organizations which are doing the greatest good in the world's work are those whose financial resources are a cause of the utmost concern.

It is important, therefore, that you select your candidates for membership on this board with great care. Choose your best men. Clean men. Unselfish men. Men who will put into its work more of their character, their personality, their intelligence than they dream of getting paid for.

As is well known three examinations are held each year, all in Columbus, and the number of persons attending these for the year ending April 30, 1902, were :

PROSECUTIONS.

The board has prosecuted twenty-four cases of violation of the pharmacy law during the year ending May 1, 1902. In addition to these the members of the board have investigated quite a large number of cases of reported violation which proved either to be without foundation, or were of such nature that compliance with the law was secured without resort to the courts.

While pharmacists are invited to report cases of violation of law, at the same time only such cases as are clearly in violation thereof should be reported. The investigation of these cases requires time and money and the board does not have any of the latter to waste in fruitless chase after imaginary offenders.

CHANGE IN LAW.

The supreme court of the state rendered a decision on April 22, 1902, declaring void the law known as the Robert's law relating to the examination of stationary engineers. This law was crudely drawn and undoubtedly was so unequal in its adjustment as to be justly determined invalid. The court, however, went so far in this decision as to say that the legislature must define the branches in which an applicant for examination shall be examined. While the opinion of the attorney general of the state was in effect that this broad opinion of the court did not affect the pharmacy law, it was thought best while the legislature was in session to so amend Section 4408 relating to examination of applicants as to specify the subjects of which such examination should consist. This was done by the insertion of a single clause in this section, and a bill so amending it was introduced by Prof. J. H. Beal who, with the aid of Senator John Krause, secured its passage in both branches of the General Assembly without opposition.

RENEWALS.

At the time this report is being written we are in the midst of the work of renewing the certificates of those who were registered by law in 1884. In that year about 3,000 secured registration as pharmacists in this manner, and 1,000 men as assistant pharmacists. In 1899, the number of pharmacists of this class had fallen to 1340, and the assistant pharmacists to 154. We estimate this number will be still further reduced this year to about 1100 and 100 respectively. If this estimate proves to be about correct the reduction of 29 shown in the whole number of registered persons by our report will be largely increased, and this fact is worthy of observation as to the value of pharmacy laws. It is to be hoped that the rapidly diminishing number of pessimists among retail druggists as to the usefulness of such laws as pharmacy laws may be still more apparent in the light of these plain statements.

Progress toward ideal conditions in any direction is necessarily slow and he who is not far-sighted enough to patiently wait until the acorn develops into an oak is not a true philosopher.

Respectfully submitted,

THE OHIO BOARD OF PHARMACY,

COLUMBUS, O., JULY 1, 1902.

W. R. OGIER, Secretary.

It was moved by Mr. Herbst, and seconded, that the report be adopted and spread on the minutes for publication.

Prof. Beal: There is one particular portion of this report that I think should be called especially to the attention of the association, and that is the great disproportion which exists between the number of registered pharmacists and the number of assistant registered pharmacists. We have a large number of registered pharmacists, and a small number of assistants. At the present time, the demand for pharmacy clerks cannot at all be met by the supply. The question presents itself, how does this occur; what is the reason for it?

My opinion is, and I have not arrived at it hastily, that it is because druggists are too anxious to have their clerks become registered as pharmacists, instead of as assistants. What is it that an assistant pharmacist can, or cannot do? He can do practically everything, except own and control a drug store of his own. Consequently, if he is a registered assistant, he can legally, under the law, perform every duty that you ought to submit to him. If he becomes a pharmacist, he cannot do any more than that, except that he can own and control a store of his own. The temptation is great for him to stop clerking and become a proprietor.

You say that the wages of drug clerks are not sufficient to encourage young men to take up that work and to remain in it? Why are they not sufficient? Because the condition of the pharmaceutical profession to-day is such that they cannot pay adequate compensation. There are a number of reasons which contribute to this, but one of them is, that we have more pharmacists than are necessary for the business. So that our present policy is operating as an endless chain to increase the number of competitors which we have in business, and decrease the number of men who are available for assistants.

I would like to impress upon every druggist in this association, and upon the professors of pharmacy in all the schools and colleges of this state, the importance of encouraging their young men to register as assistants, and remain on the register as assistants for two or three years before they come up for examination as pharmacists. I think that one of the amendments of the pharmacy law which we should work for in the future is, to provide by legislation that a man, before he can be registered as a pharmacist, should be registered not less than two years as an assistant pharmacist. That is the only way to insure his having had sufficient amount of experience to justify his becoming a managing pharmacist.

Mr. Freericks: I am in accord with Prof. Beal, to a certain extent. The main reason why pharmacist proprietors desire that their clerks should be pharmacists is, that if you are called away from your business for any cause, for any length of time, you cannot legally leave your store in charge of a registered assistant. I am away from my store now for a week. I employ a registered pharmacist to take charge of my store, to have it run lawfully. If I had a registered pharmacist in charge as a regular clerk, I would not need to do that. But, under the law as construed by the board of pharmacy, I am at various times compelled to hire a pharmacist to run my store during my absence; and I think there are two or three of the board present here who I think, will agree that that is the only proper course that I could take.

Prof. Beal: I think the board ought to be more liberal in its construction.

Mr. Freericks: I think the board is more than right in its construction, and ought to maintain it at all events. At the same time, the amendment that a man should be an assistant for several years, and on record as such, before he be allowed to register as a pharmacist—unless he come from another state and shows that he has had, say, registration in the other state as a pharmacist—is proper and good. But as nearly as I can see, the only legal way in which I could leave my store for a week is to hire a pharmacist to take care of it when I am gone.

Mr. Herbst: There is nothing in the law, as I understand it, to prevent an assistant from running a store, provided the store is owned and managed by a pharmacist.

A member: That question came up two or three years ago, while I was absent, at Put-in-Bay, and it was under the care of a very efficient assistant pharmacist. I went to Mr. Ogier, who was there, and asked him about it, and he said at that time that the rule of the board was that a store could not be left under the care of an assistant. I hurried home, cut my visit short on that account, and I now have a registered pharmacist; hunted two months last year, in order to employ one.

Mr. Herbst: This question was put to the board of pharmacy. I asked last year under what law they could keep an assistant from conducting a store, provided the owner of it was a registered pharmacist; and they said they could not, that they had no right to.

Mr. Merrell: It seems to me that this discussion would be more in order if we had received the report of the board.

Mr. Vortkamp: There are two members of the board present. I would like to know what it was that Mr. Herbst says was the construction of the law by the board.

Mr. Herbst: The board cannot put any ruling there that is contrary to law.

Mr. Hechler: I wish to say one word to our friend, Mr. Vortkamp. Isn't a druggist just as competent to read the law as our board of pharmacy? They are only servants, and can only carry out the law. They have no right to make a ruling. Their duty is to conduct the business of the board, but the law is there, and they cannot change it, and every druggist ought to be intelligent enough to read that law and know it, as well as the pharmacy board. They have no right to put constructions on the pharmacy law; the court does that.

Mr. Vortkamp: The reason I asked that is this: In my town there was a druggist who had an assistant. One day he went hunting, and the attorney of the board came in and found the assistant in charge, and told him that the boss could not do anything like that, and that hereafter he had to look after the store more closely.

The President: It seems to me that I remember something about that attorney having been discharged by the board.

Mr. King: As a member of the board, I would like to ask if there is any one here who has known the board to make a ruling that was contrary to law.

Mr. Herbst: Mr. Freericks tells me that the board sent out a circular about a year ago, in which they stated that an assistant could not conduct a store, only during the absence of the proprietor for an hour or so to attend to some duty in an emergency, but that otherwise he would have to be there himself, or have a registered pharmacist in charge.

Mr. King: We would be pleased to have that paper brought before the meeting, say tomorrow. I remember something about this report, but I do not think that that report was contrary to law.

Mr. Hopp: If I remember rightly that was done in Cincinnati, and two or three druggists arrested for that cause, and Mr.

DeLang and a number of the Cincinnati druggists went up to Columbus about it.

Mr. King: This matter was referred to the attorney general; there was no ruling of the board. It was a matter of suggestion, and it was in accordance with the instructions of the attorney general.

Mr. Freericks cited the following portion of the pharmacy law:

It shall be unlawful for any person, not a legally registered pharmacist, to compound, dispense, or sell, any drug, chemical, poison, or pharmaceutical preparation, upon the prescription of a physician or otherwise, provided, however, that a legally registered assistant pharmacist may compound, dispense, or sell, any such drug, chemical, poison, or pharmaceutical preparation when employed in a pharmacy or drug store which is under the supervision, management and control of a legally registered pharmacist.

Mr. Freericks: That covers it fully, but the construction that was put on it by the board at that time made it look a little different to me. It was made to appear that he had to give it his personal supervision. It is a matter of importance, because as it stands at Cincinnati the majority of our druggists are under the impression that they cannot leave the store in charge of a registered assistant and go away for two or three days.

After further discussion, the motion to adopt the report was carried.

The president appointed as the committee to whom would be referred the resolution offered by Mr. Freericks, Messrs. Kutchbauch, Burkhardt, Byrne, McCann and Hechler.

On motion, a recess was taken until Friday morning at 10 o'clock.

FIFTH SESSION—FRIDAY FORENOON,

July 11th, 1902.

The meeting was called to order at 10 o'clock a. m. by the president, the minutes of the last meeting being read and approved.

At the request of the president, Mr. John Weyer presented the report of the Retail Druggists' Insurance Company, as follows:

Mr. President and Members of the O. S. P. A.:

GENTLEMEN: Since our last report to the O. S. P. A. one year ago, the insurance company has taken on a new form, and has, to some extent, modified its method of doing business. The change consisted chiefly in the amendment of its charter to conform to certain other sections of the insurance laws of Ohio, and change of name to The Retail Druggists' Mutual Fire Insurance Company.

THE REASONS FOR THE CHANGE.

We hardly deem it necessary to detail here all the reasons for this change, but suffice it to say that the present form is that form that was originally intended to operate under, but we found at that time it was impossible to comply with all the conditions of the law, the chief one being the necessity of having $10,000.00 paid in, in premiums, before incorporation. We therefore, at that time, chose the association form, and were permitted to operate as we did to some extent not exactly in conformity to the sections of the statutes, as then interpreted, regulating associations, with the expressed understanding that we should work up to the mutual company form. It is now claimed by the insurance department that the association form is only intended for operation in limited territory, such as one or more counties or one or more townships, and not to operate throughout the whole state. According to certain later decisions of the attorney general and subsequent rulings of the insurance commissioner, associations are no longer permitted to collect any moneys by assessment or otherwise in advance, for the payment of losses, but assessments must be made specifically for losses and expenses after losses have occurred. In consequence of these decisions and rulings it became necessary that we either conform to the law as defined by the attorney general, or reorganize—by amendment of our charter and modification of plan to operate under Section 3634 and subsequent sections of the statutes governing mutual fire companies. To continue to operate as an association in accordance with the said rulings, would be disastrous; so that it became necessary to change or quit business. The work in connection with the change, and the preparation for it, was very great. The assent of the members to the change must be had. A code of regulations for the government of the directors must be adopted by the members. A complete new policy form must be gotten up; The code of regulations, by-laws, policy form, and plan of the work, had to be approved by the insurance commissioner. Much correspondence was necessary and several trips to Columbus to confer with Mr. Vorys on matters of detail. We had to put men in the field to secure the signatures of members; but, at the same time, they secured a considerable amount of new business. When all was ready for the change, on March 10th of this year (1902), we began writing policies in the new company and taking up those of the old. Notices were sent to members several days ahead, setting as many for each day as we deemed we would be able to write. This was continued until the work was complete, on June 14th, 1902.

We had otherwise very little trouble. The change was made with a loss of a very small percentage of the old members because of the change, but on the other hand we had an increase of business during the process of change of more than $180,000.00.

The following is a report of the business of the company for the year and the condition at the present time:

Insurance in force last report, June, 1901.....	$763,125.00

While the loss from cancellations and expirations was quite large, a very small percentage seems to be caused by reason of our change in form, but there have been many changes in business, causing more than the usual amount of cancellations and expirations.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN WEYER, Secretary.

On motion of Mr. Kauffman the report was accepted and ordered spread upon the minutes.

The executive committee reported twenty-six applications for membership who have paid their initiation fee and annual dues for the first year.

The President : They will take the usual course and lie over one meeting.

The committee on president's address made the following report :

Mr. Byrne : The committee appointed to consider the president's address, beg leave to submit the following report :

First : This committee concurs heartily in the recommendation of the president that the druggists of the state conform strictly to the provisions of the new poison law, and also that it would be advisable to prepare a form of record specially adapted to the provisions of the Ohio law, in order that the form of record be uniform over the state.

Second : In reference to the remarks of the president respecting the necessity of increasing the membership of this association, your committee feels that the importance of this work cannot be too strongly insisted upon, and we recommend that every member of the O. S. P. A. charge himself with the work of bringing the claims of the association to the attention of his brother druggists who are not members.

Third : Respecting the matters discussed in the communication from the secretary of the N. A. R. D., it is the opinion of your committee that the cut-rate problem can best be handled by a more complete and thorough organization of the druggists into local associations, and that the state and local associations afford us the most efficient means of bringing about that common understanding among the members of our profession which is essential to harmonious and successful action.

Fourth : The committee commends the general excellence of the president's address, and its able manner of presenting the problems of interest to our profession, and for the many helpful suggestions which it contains. The committee recommends that the address be printed in the proceedings of the association, and the thanks of the association extended to President Firmin.

On motion of Mr. Case, duly seconded, the report of the committee was adopted.

Mr. Hopp suggested that, having adopted the report of the committee, action ought to be taken to prepare a poison register such as suggested, in the name of the Ohio State Pharmaceutical Association.

Prof. Kauffman : In this matter of a poison register, the subject has been considered, and I will state that I have, together with one or two others who are with me in the work, a form of poison register partly completed, and hope to have it all completed by next month. That has been done, partly in connection with the work of the auxiliary, and we thought it so important a matter that it ought not to be allowed to rest and at once took it up. This is simply made as an explanation in order that you may know what is under way. The plan of distribution has not yet been determined upon.

As the auxiliary would have the work of caring for any cases that may be brought under the new poison law, we deemed it proper that we should prepare a form under which all these records should be kept.

Mr. Hopp: I move that the auxiliary be requested, when they have their copy prepared of a poison register, to print the same and place a stipulated price thereon, keeping in view a good fair profit in favor of the auxiliary. I know every druggist in the city of Cleveland will buy one and gladly pay for it. There is not a poison register on the market to-day that is good for anything.

Mr. Freericks: Do you include, that the auxiliary is to draw on the Ohio State Pharmaceutical treasury to pay for that?

Mr. Hopp: To pay for it, yes.

Seconded by Prof. Beal.

Prof. Beal: I move to amend the motion by striking out "at the expense of the association." I do not think that this association ought to embark in the book publishing business at this time. Furthermore, in a matter of such importance as a poison record, where it is desirable that every druggist in the state should possess and use one, it should be supplied them at the lowest cost compatible with the payment of expenses. It seems to me that the auxiliary can do this at its own expense. It has better means of looking after the work; it is better prepared to pay for it, and, if there should be any loss, it is better able to stand the loss than the association is.

Amendment seconded by Mr. Hechler, and accepted by Mr. Hopp to his original motion.

Prof. Kauffman: I wish to explain that the auxiliary had no intention of bringing this matter before the association. Indeed, we hoped that they would not think of it. We did not want to ask them for any money, and we did not wish the association, if they left it in our hands, to take upon themselves any responsibility.

Our purpose is, to get out a very complete and useful poison register, and we have spent some time upon it, and expect to spend quite a good deal more time upon it. We shall print in the forepart of the book the complete poison law.

We shall print, so far as possible, a complete list of all the articles which have to be registered under that law; and we shall print in addition, a number of court decisions with reference to the sale of poisons, and in all cases which have been brought under the poison laws, and point out, in a very complete way, what each pharmacist will be expected or required to do under the law. Then there will follow all this matter, which will comprise some 15 or 20 large pages of printed matter. There will follow this the blank pages with the proper headings for the record.

The poison law in its entirety will be the first thing, then the cases upon it, together with a list of the items which must be registered, making it very plain. We did expect that we would be able to make this record pay for itself at least, and possibly yield us a small return. We do not expect to make money out of it, but we did hope that it would pay its way; and for that reason, we had no purpose of bringing it to the attention of the association.

The President: I would also suggest that, although I presume the board would think of that, that it should be copyrighted; it does not cost very much, and it would make it a little more valuable.

The motion is, that the auxiliary be authorized to get up a poison register and publish it for sale to druggists, with merely the suggestion that it be copy-righted.

Carried.

Mr. Byrne presented the report of the delegates to the convention of the National Association of Retail Druggists, held at Buffalo last year, as follows:

WHAT DID OHIO DO AT THE BUFFALO CONVENTION? WHAT DID HER DELEGATES ACCOMPLISH?

Ohio, ever conspicuous in affairs state or national, was also in evidence at the Buffalo convention, standing as a unit for the principles of the price restriction plan, as enunciated at our Dayton convention, and wielding a power for the cause of equal justice against a combination of interests who would, upon the smallest temptation, notoriously ignore their signed agreement to the tripartite or any other plan that is not protected by law.

To all appearances, the tripartite breakers either feared not or cared not a fig for the good or bad opinion of the retailer. Why not? Because they presume upon their dollars paid into the coffers of the N. A. R. D. executive committee to protect them from these little embarrassing situations that only happen when we are at the sea shore, in Europe, yachting down the sound, in the White Mountains, or like the O. S. P. A., on a trip to Mackinac. Therefore think it quite presumptuous, you Ohioans, trying to close up our little avenues that lead to cuttertown; but we have Chicago with its radiating influences and proxies through the northwest to help us defeat your purpose. Fifteen day black-lists cut no figure; we dominate all we care for of the executive committee; such were the conditions your delegates met with in the early stages of that Buffalo convention.

The president's address, however, was a bomb-shell, so full of lyddite that when it fell in the ranks of our Chicago friends, all sense of sight and speech disappeared long enough for the worthy secretary of this association to administer a knock-down resolution that gave them nervous prostration for many hours.

The scene-shifter in that convention produced many peculiar situations, and the calcium light thrown upon the faces of the actors was a study for the mind-reader. Picture to yourself, please, the chairman of an executive committee of any organization whose delegates represent a membership of twenty thousand, presenting a report entirely at variance with the members of his committee, and without a single endorsement—something unique in conventions and without a precedent.

When asked if his peculiar views on matters contained therein were endorsed by the entire committee, the few moments of hesitancy produced, the actor but reflected the shadow of the Master over the man, and the power of the mighty dollar. Influence and dollars are the two greatest obstacles the N. A. R. D. have had to contend with in the past, and now, day after day, finds the tripartite breakers erecting stone walls in the path of the N. A. R. D.'s progress, and would jubilate at its downfall.

You have but to read that inspired article from the New York Journal. (Don't believe for one moment that it is not a paid article.) Editorials of that character are not thought out by the printer's devil, but the venom of the devils whose toes are being trampled upon by the N. A. R. D., and can not be half decent until compelled to by due process of law.

Can any member of this association name a newspaper, east or west, of influence and general circulation, that does not to-day, and has previously published cut-rate stores and their prices, in the face of a resolution passed by the P. A. of A. at Chicago by a unanimous vote, that, upon the expiration of present contracts, all new contracts should and would contain a clause declaring null and void any contract with a paper that, after notification, continue to publish cut-rate stores. With what fidelity that was carried out? That was two years ago. Possibly they are waiting for the last contract to expire.

It is very evident they fear the Worcester or price restrictive plan, or any plan bearing upon the status of the Worcester plan. If not, why did the proprietors, at their May meeting in New York, pile such huge chunks of ice upon the paper presented by Mr. Gallagher, and known as the Simon N. Jones plan, based upon the Worcester method? They discovered, in secret session, they could not use it. "We can not, under that plan, even if it is in a modified form, sing long praises and pray loud prayers on Sundays for the retailer, and on Monday enter upon our cash books, cutters' checks and drafts. No, that we will not do; discovery would soon follow our iniquities."

It was because of those same sins of omission and commission in not playing in good faith at that meeting, that caused the Omega Chemical Company to withdraw from the P. A. of A. organization, and other honest ones are sure to follow.

Let me read to you the stand taken by Dr. V. Mott Pierce at that meeting. All Ohio delegates to the Buffalo convention will remember Dr. V. Mott, with hands as high in the air as his short stature would permit, declaim with a heart bursting with love and loyalty for the retailer in general, and the N. A. R. D. in particular. History relates, or rather the drug journals, the same thing; drug journalists are all historians. A bird of evil omen whispered to V. Mott Pierce, that a druggist in one of the upper counties substituted. Isn't that terrible? Yes, substituted! No Golden or any other great medical discovery, could allay the pangs that filled his soul, until it was spread upon the minutes of P. A. of A. meeting in New York. We should be pleased to have some learned member of the O. S. P. A. define substitution and its relations to patent medicine. We can readily understand how a druggist might substitute cinchonidia for quinine, phenacetine for antikamnia, eucaïne for cocaine, codeine for morphine, if compounded with other chemicals. All are alike in color, and are oftentimes prescribed for the same cause by eminent physicians. But no two patent or proprietary articles are alike in manner, makeup, or previous condition of servitude.

Therefore, to change the ideas of a prospective customer from Tom Johnson's Cherry Bounce to Mark Hanna's Panama Cordial because of the difference between a 2% and 25% profit in favor of Mark, I call commercialism; and commercialism as practiced to-day by a druggist in pushing his own preparations is patriotism; and patriots are all good, law abiding citizens, Dr. V. Mott's idea to the contrary notwithstanding.

But Dr. V. Mott and his confreres are not the only lolly pops. We have a few wholesalers, proprietors' agents with a pull because they were special contributors. Was it their influence and other etceteras that kept their names from the blacklist, or any mention made of them by the persons who dominated the executive committee of the N. A. R. D. at Buffalo? Where were the watchdogs of our executive committee that permitted goods by the carload to be shipped by New York houses, McKasson & Robbins, for instance, to Hogan & Co., Boston, a well known drug cutters' supply house? Were not McKasson & Robbins members of the tripartite agreement? Or Lord, Owen & Co. of Chicago, loud voiced professors of loyalty to the retailers, to send a representative to Detroit to solicit the cut-rate trade only, and ship them goods in large quantities. They were at that time, and are now, tripartiters. Did you ever hear of their being reprimanded? If so, it passed into the higher atmosphere and was lost. Why throw pin hooks out to catch the gold fish, and harpoon the little silver sides like Robert Stevenson, of Chicago, or Jadwin, Payne & Co. Who of you gentlemen ever heard of or purchased goods from Jarwin, Payne & Co. Their fame may possibly have reached the shore line of Atlantic City, and wirelessly telegraphed to Chicago; otherwise, their cut-rate sales to cut-rate druggists could never have been known, or the whole country circularized to crush them as awful examples.

I call your attention to these matters because of the good it may do in spurring our executive officers to be more aggressive, and not for want of faith in the N. A. R. D. and its ultimate success, but against allurements of promises soon forgotten and sooner broken. Ohio, in my opinion, has a right to criticize, and enter a mild protest against methods with such a peculiarly disagreeable odor. Does she not stand second, numerically and financially, among the galaxy of N. A. R. D. stars? We say to you, gentlemen, Ohio's star never shone brighter than on that fateful Thursday when the majority by proxies only, placed the destiny of the N. A. R. D. at stake by trying to crush and humiliate the price protectionists; but Ohio would neither be crushed nor humiliated; her honor was impugned, her sincerity of purpose was questioned, and her representatives were in no mood to be trifled with; standing first, but placed second by the juggling of figures, numerically and financially, her withdrawal most certain to be followed by New York, meant the disruption of the organization.

Three full years in the school of trickery, taught by master artists in that line, the P. A. of A. ought to be excused for our executive committee to begin a campaign of aggressive methods, if they wish to keep alive the hope that once inspired the retail druggists of America in their only offspring, the N. A. R. D. If not, the time is not far distant when any matter pertaining to our interests, it matters not in what form it may be presented to the proprietors or jobbers affiliated with them, who are now and have from the moment the N. A. R. D. crystallized into a body powerful enough to dictate its policy, intriguing by every method known to past masters in diplomacy to bring about its early dissolution; and as in the Simon N. Jones paper, presented at the P. A. of A. meeting by Mr. Gallagher, chairman of the N. A. R. D. executive committee, almost, in the slang of the day, ordered him to "go away back and sit down."

In summing up the net results of the Buffalo convention, we believe the following points stand out most conspicuously: The adoption of as much of the Worcester plan as can be used to good advantage; the abandoning of proxies, which caused so much irritation and friction, giving, as it did, a majority to a minority representation; a promise of loyalty and strict adherence to the principles of the tripartite and Worcester plan; and the punishment of all offenders without fear or favor.

Mr. Byrne: There is another thing that has honored Ohio—the knocking out of the proxy business that was presented in the convention. They defeated Ohio twice on resolutions that should have gone through, on proxies only; they came to that convention from the northwest and from Chicago, with their pockets bulging out with proxies, and they defeated Ohio and her purposes, on proxies only. Therefore, Ohio has had the honor to knock out, in a manner, the entire proxy system. There is not a proxy to be presented to the convention when it meets at Cleveland.

Mr. Herbst: I wish to state to you that the secretary of the N. A. R. D. sent to our secretary a boycott circular on an eastern house, requesting him to place one in each of the letters that he addressed to our members. The secretary referred it to the executive committee, and we refused to have the circulars sent out, because we thought it was not of any value to our people.

Mr. Hechler: I move that the report of Mr. Byrne be received, and published in our proceedings, and a vote of thanks be extended to Mr. Byrne for his able, unflinching and straightforward report. He certainly gave us the true inwardness of that institution, and when the association sent him to represent us, we certainly did not "send a boy to the mill," but a man. Such things ought to be taken up and bring about radical reforms such as is necessary to keep that organization in line.

Motion duly carried.

The committee appointed to consider the resolution offered by Mr. Freericks regarding the prevention of price-cutting and the adoption of a serial numbering plan, reported as follows:

The committee approves the foregoing resolution, and recommends its adoption by the association and that it be spread upon the minutes.

Signed. J. F. KUTCHBAUCH,
M. A. BURKHARDT,
G. L. HECHLER,
JOHN BYRNE,
J. M. McCANN.

On motion, the report of the committee was adopted, and the resolution ordered spread upon the minutes.

The following delegates and alternates were elected to attend the convention of the American Pharmaceutical Association at Philadelphia, the following September:

Delegates, H. V. Army, Cleveland; F. W. Herbst, Columbus; M. A. Burkhardt, Dayton; Charles Freericks, Cincinnati; J. H. Beal, Scio.

On motion of Mr. Kutchbauch, the rules were suspended, and the secretary was instructed to cast the ballot for the election of the foregoing delegates, which he did.

Alternates, E. R. Selzer, Cleveland; F. H. King, Delphos; B. S. Young, Ada; W. C. Wendt, Columbus; J. F. Kutchbauch, Cincinnati.

The foregoing alternates were likewise elected by ballot of the secretary, authorized by the association.

Prof. Kauffman called the attention of the delegates and alternates just elected, to the importance of the forthcoming meeting of the American Pharmaceutical Association, as being the jubilee or 50th anniversary meeting, for which great preparations were being made.

The secretary also called attention to the value of membership in that association, and the comparatively small membership from this state. He stated that the report of the American Pharmaceutical Association itself was worth far more than the cost of membership, and that the association was the foremost pharmaceutical body in the world. The secretary urged the wisdom of joining the larger body, the fee being only $5, while the book of proceedings was worth $10.

On motion a recess was taken.

SIXTH SESSION—SATURDAY EVENING.

July 12th, 1902.

The meeting was called to order at 9 p. m. by the president, the minutes of the last meeting being read and approved.

The secretary read the names of the following applicants for membership, which had been reported at the previous session:

Wm. H. Gansz, Cincinnati; G. F. Franke, Wapakoneta; Frank Butler, Bellefontaine; John J. Spurgeon, Sabina; Chas. H. Coffman, West Alexandria; Philip M. Streich, Portsmouth; Chas. O. Moosbrugger, Dayton; Charles T. Larkins, East Liverpool; Frank Amann, Portsmouth; Wm. H. Graetz, Bucyrus; Francis M. Miller, Findlay; Horatio G. Peters, Mt. Gilead; Dan'l R. Spry, Portsmouth; Tiffin E. Brindle, Wilmington; Irving H. Hills, Cincinnati; Harry G. Simons, Greenfield; John W. Flood, Portsmouth; Chas. Weissman, Cincinnati; Arthur R. Williams, Portsmouth; Clayton M. Hill, Dayton; Frank D. Wiseman, Detroit, Mich.; Julius M. Rogoff, Cleveland; H. E. Germann, Cincinnati; H. B. Greenameyer, Piqua; C. E. Amann, Portsmouth.

On motion, the secretary was instructed to cast the ballot of the association for the election of the foregoing persons to membership in the association, which was accordingly done.

Mr. Hopp: I move, that in view of the grand entertainment given us by Parks, Davis & Co., that we extend a vote of thanks to said firm, and also to Mr. Wm. M. Warren, of Parke, Davis & Co., and to Mr. ——— Nelson, of Nelson, Baker & Co.

Motion seconded by Mr. King, and duly carried.

Mr. Hopp: There are two gentlemen who have been very active in said entertainment and in other entertainments that we have had, connected with the firm of Parke, Davis & Co., Prof. Frank G. Ryan, who was a teacher of the Philadelphia College of Pharmacy for a number of years, and Mr. Joseph Helfman, connected with Parke, Davis & Co., in charge of the publication department. I would move that they be elected honorary members of our association.

Motion seconded, and duly carried. The secretary was authorized to cast the ballot of the association for the election of the two gentlemen mentioned, which he accordingly did, and they were declared duly elected.

Mr. Averill, of Kentucky, extended a cordial invitation to the members of the association to attend the convention of the Kentucky Pharmaceutical Association one year from now, at Estelle Springs, Ky., assuring them of a hearty welcome, and suggesting the appointment of a committee to attend such meeting, by the incoming president, if proper.

The president thanked Mr. Averill for his kind invitation.

Mr. Voss: I make a motion to the effect that the new president appoint three delegates to attend the next Kentucky convention.

Motion seconded by Mr. Hopp, and duly carried.

On motion of Mr. Herbst, a vote of thanks was extended to the committee on arrangements for their efforts to entertain the association, and the hard work done by them, and especially to Mr. Drackett, the chairman.

On motion, a vote of thanks was extended to all those persons and firms who so kindly contributed to the entertainment of the association during their trip, at Toledo, Lima, Detroit and elsewhere.

On motion of Mr. Herbst, the committee to select names from which the governor shall select a member of the board of pharmacy, were allowed to make a supplementary report, they having included the name of Mr. Frank Amann, of Portsmouth, before he had actually been elected to membership in the association.

The committee accordingly reported the name of Mr. Frank Amann, of Portsmouth, as a supplementary name in connection with their former report, which was duly accepted by vote of the association.

On motion of Mr. Hopp, a vote of thanks was extended to our retiring president, Mr. John C. Firmin, for his intelligent and earnest efforts in behalf of the association.

On motion of Mr. Vortkamp the secretary was instructed to have the portrait of Mr. Albert Hitchman, of Butler, Ohio, lately deceased, as a frontispiece of the printed proceedings of this meeting, he having been a faithful member in his attendance at the meetings of the association.

Mr. Hopp spoke feelingly on the earnestness and persevering spirit of Mr. Hitchman in educating himself for his profession.

The President: Mr. Hitchman was appointed by me as one of the members of the membership committee, this year, and I have forgotten, it seems to me his name is not on the list. He was taken sick at that time and asked off, but he assured me — sent me word particularly, that while he thanked me for appointing him on that committee, that he felt unable to—did not know how soon he would be able to go to work, but just as soon as he did get to work, he would make special efforts this year to get new members; and I have no doubt he would.

The newly elected officers were installed in their positions, after which the meeting adjourned.

LEWIS C. HOPP, Secretary.

OHIO PHARMACY LAW.

[Enacted April 21st, 1898.]

AN ACT

To amend Sections 4405, 4406, 4407, 4408, 4409, 4410, 4411 and 4412,
Revised Statutes of Ohio.

SECTION I. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Ohio, That sections 4405, 4406, 4407, 4408, 4409, 4410, 4411 and 4412 of the Revised Statutes of Ohio, be amended to read as follows :

Who may retail drugs;
compound
prescriptions proviso.

SEC. 4405. It shall be unlawful for any person not a legally registered pharmacist, to open, or conduct, any pharmacy, or retail drug or chemical store, either as proprietor or manager thereof, unless he shall have in his employ and place in charge of such pharmacy, or store, a legally registered pharmacist under the laws of this state. It shall be unlawful for any person, not a legally registered pharmacist to compound, dispense, or sell, any drug, chemical, poison, or pharmaceutical preparation, upon the prescription of a physician or otherwise, provided, however, that a legally registered assistant pharmacist may compound, dispense, or sell, any such drug, chemical, poison, or pharmaceutical preparation when employed in a pharmacy or drug store which is under the supervision, management and control of a legally registered pharmacist.
